INTRODUCTION

The neo-babylonian Business Documents or so-called contract-literature extends over a period from the time of Sennacherib down to the latest period of cuneiform-writing¹). The great political revolutions of that whole epoch, especially the termination of Assyrian rule over Babylon²) and the capture of that city by Cyrus (539 B. C.) did not exert any noteworthy influence upon this kind of Babylonian literature. I have restricted myself in the present volume to business documents written before the Persian domination³), since the editors of the Study Series have reserved a separate volume for documents of the Persian period.

JULES OPPERT⁴) was the first Assyriologist to devote himself to the study of neo-babylonian business docu-

C., the latest, published by STRASSMAIER in Zeitschrift für Assyriologie III, p. 147 is written in the year 80 B. C. Before Sennacherib, there is a large gap in Babylonian contract-literature, no clay-tablets having been found belonging to the time between Kaštiliaš II (about 1250 B. C.) and Sennacherib (705—681 B. C.).

3) Texts belonging to the time of the Assyrian supremacy are rather scarce and have not been included in the present collection.

ments¹⁾. But since only a comparatively small number of such texts were at his disposal, many difficulties remained unsolved. The first publication of a large collection was undertaken by J. N. STRASSMAIER who, in the year 1885, edited 181 documents of the neobabylonian period²⁾. The greater part of this collection he re-edited in an elaborate series (1887—1897) in which he published altogether about 3000 neobabylonian business documents³⁾. An exhaustive study of the first volumes of this work led F. E. PEISER to the publication of similar texts of the Berlin Museum⁴⁾. PEISER laid the foundation for the interpretation of neo-babylonian business documents by furnishing, in addition to the autograph copies, a complete transliteration and

At about the same time K. L. TALLQVIST ¹⁾ compiled a glossary containing the words of the texts which up to that time had been published by STRASSMAIER, while, in addition to his former treatises, F. E. PEISER published a collection of selected transliterated and translated texts in the 4th volume of E. SCHRADER's Keilinschriftliche Bibliothek ²⁾. In collaboration with Professor KOHLER of Berlin, he also issued a valuable series of studies entitled „Aus dem Babylonischen Rechtsleben” ³⁾ in which the business documents are arranged according to their juridical contents. Other treatises based upon STRASSMAIER's texts are those of ZEHNPFUND ⁴⁾, DEMUTH ⁵⁾, ZIEMER ⁶⁾ and MARX ⁷⁾.

New material was furnished by the excavations of MESSRS. PETERS and HAYNES at Nippur for the Univer-

The names contained in the neo-babylonian business documents, excepting those published by the Pennsylvania University²), have been collected and explained by K. L. TALLQVIST³). The neo-babylonian business documents preserved in the Berlin Museum have been published by the present writer in the „Vorderasiatische Schriftdenkmäler“⁴) III—VI.

The present collection of neo-babylonian business documents has, in accordance with the general purposes of the Semitic Study Series, been prepared primarily for the use of beginners. This will justify occasional emendations and restorations of corrupt and defective

1) The first volume was issued under the title H. V. HILPRECHT and A. T. CLAY, Business Documents of Murashû Sons of Nippur, dated in the reign of Artaxerxes I (The Babylonian Expedition of the University of Pennsylvania, Series A, Vol. IX). Philadelphia 1898; the second as A. T. CLAY, Business Documents of Murashû Sons of Nippur, dated in the reign of Darius II (ib. Series A, Vol. X). Philadelphia 1904; the third as A. T. CLAY, Legal and Commercial Transactions dated in the Assyrian, Neo-Babylonian and Persian Periods chiefly from Nippur (ib. Series A, Vol. VIII, 1). Philadelphia 1908. To the 1st vol. Prof. HILPRECHT contributed the introduction and concordance of proper names and also copied a number of the texts.
